Published on Hillsborough Community College News (https://news.hccfl.edu) on 02/22/17

HCC in the News: Lack of Vision Doesn't Stop HCC Trinkle Center Specialist From Excelling at Work

Terms:

Published Date and Time:
04/13/16

http://www.tbo.com/plant-city/man-who-runs-hccs-trinkle-center-doesnt-let-lack-of-vision-stop-him-from-excelling-at-work-20160413/ [1]

News Organization:
The Tampa Tribune

Bart Butler, who has been blind since 2005, was desperate for work when he called Hillsborough Community College's Plant City campus in search of a job. He dialed campus President Dr. Martyn Clay's extension and got a surprise. "I expected to get his secretary, but he (Clay) answered the phone and I explained my situation to him. He said he'd get back to me in a couple of weeks. I think it was two weeks to the day, he called," Butler said. The discussion with Clay nearly two years ago led to Butler taking a specialist's position at the campus' largest and most popular venue, the more than 20,000 square-foot John R. Trinkle Center.

Language: English

Source URL: https://news.hccfl.edu/news/hcc-news-lack-vision-doesnt-stop-hcc-trinkle-center-specialist-excelling-work

Links:
[1] http://www.tbo.com/plant-city/man-who-runs-hccs-trinkle-center-doesnt-let-lack-of-vision-stop-him-from-excelling-at-work-20160413/