

CHARTER OF RESERVES, HEALTH, SAFETY, ENVIRONMENT AND SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY COMMITTEE

This Reserves, Health, Safety, Environment and Social Responsibility Committee Charter (the "Charter") outlines the specific roles and duties of the members of the Reserves, Health, Safety, Environment and Social Responsibility Committee (the "RHSES Committee"), a committee of the board of directors (the "Board of Directors" or "Board").

GENERAL FUNCTIONS, AUTHORITY AND ROLE

Reserves

The RHSES is a committee of the Board of Directors appointed to assist the Board in monitoring: (1) the integrity of the oil and gas reserves of the Company; (2) compliance by the Company with legal and regulatory requirements related to reserves; (3) qualifications, independence and performance of the Company's independent reserves evaluators; (4) performance of the Company's procedures for providing information to the independent reserves evaluators; and (5) resources other than reserves reported by the Company.

The RHSES Committee has the power to conduct or authorize investigations into any matters within its scope of responsibilities, with full access to all books, records, facilities and personnel of the Company, its reserves evaluators and its legal advisors. In connection with such investigations or otherwise in the course of fulfilling its responsibilities under this Charter, the RHSES Committee has the authority to independently retain special legal, engineering, or other consultants to advise it, and may request any officer or employee of the Company, its independent legal counsel or independent reserves evaluators to attend a meeting of the RHSES Committee or to meet with any members of, or consultants to, the RHSES Committee. The RHSES Committee also has the power to create specific sub-committees with all of the investigative powers described above.

The Company's independent reserves evaluators are ultimately accountable to the Board of Directors and to the RHSES Committee. The members of the RHSES Committee, as representatives of the Company's shareholders, have the ultimate authority and responsibility to evaluate the independent reserves evaluators, and to select the independent reserves evaluators on an annual basis (as a minimum) or as required. In the course of fulfilling its specific responsibilities hereunder, the RHSES Committee must maintain free and open communication between the Company's independent reserves evaluators, the Board of Directors and Company management. The responsibilities of a member of the RHSES Committee are in addition to such member's duties as a member of the Board of Directors.

While the RHSES Committee has the responsibilities and powers set forth in this Charter, it is not the duty of the RHSES Committee to plan or conduct reserves evaluations or to determine that the Company's reserves statements are complete, accurate, and in accordance with generally accepted engineering principles. This is the responsibility of management and the independent reserves evaluators. Nor is it the duty of the RHSES Committee to conduct investigations, to resolve disagreements, if any, between management and the independent reserves evaluators (other than disagreements regarding reserves reporting), or to assure compliance with laws and regulations.

Health, Safety, Environment and Social Responsibility ("HSES")

The RHSES Committee will assist the Board of Directors in carrying out its responsibility to develop and implement an effective HSES management system to ensure that the Company's activities are planned and executed in a safe and responsible manner.

The RHSES Committee has the power to conduct or authorize investigations into any matters within its scope of responsibilities, with full access to all books, records, facilities and personnel of the Company. In connection with such investigations or otherwise in the course of fulfilling its responsibilities under this Charter, the RHSES Committee has the authority to independently retain special legal or other consultants to advise it, and may request any officer or employee of the Company to attend a meeting of the RHSES Committee or to meet with any members of, or consultants to, the RHSES Committee.

Technical Oversight

The RHSES Committee will assist the Board of Directors, as requested, to review the technical merits of the strategic investments and provide recommendations to the Board for approval.

Sustainability

The RHSES Committee will assist the Board of Directors, as requested, in carrying out its responsibilities with respect to environmental, social, and governance (“ESG”) matters.

MEMBERSHIP

The membership of the RHSES Committee will be as follows:

- The RHSES Committee will consist of a minimum of three members of the Board of Directors, appointed annually by the Board, the majority of whom will be independent within the meaning of 3.5 of National Instrument 51-101 – Standards of Disclosure for Oil and Gas Activities (“NI 51-101”) and National Instrument 52-110 – Audit Committees.
- The RHSES Committee will meet all independence requirements of applicable securities laws and the Toronto Stock Exchange or similar requirements of such other securities exchange or quotation system or regulatory agency as may from time to time apply to the Company.
- The Board will elect, by a majority vote, one member as chairperson of the RHSES Committee.
- The chairperson of the RHSES Committee will be an independent within the meaning of 3.5 of National Instrument 51-101 – Standards of Disclosure for Oil and Gas Activities (“NI 51-101”) and National Instrument 52-110 – Audit Committees.
- A majority of the members of the RHSES Committee should be free from any business or other relationship which could, in the view of the Board, be reasonably expected to interfere with the exercise of member's independent judgement.
- All members of the RHSES Committee should have or obtain sufficient knowledge of the Company's business and oil and gas reserves evaluations to assist in providing advice and counsel on the reserves evaluation process and report.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of the RHSES Committee will be as follows:

Frequency of Meetings

- Meet semi-annually or as often as may be deemed necessary or appropriate in its judgment, either in person or by telephone.

- as necessary, taking, or recommending that the Board of Directors take, appropriate action to oversee the independence of the independent reserves evaluators.

RHSES Committee Meetings

- Keep minutes of RHSES Committee meetings and report to the Board for approval of any actions taken or recommendations made.
- Only members of the RHSES Committee have the right to attend the RHSES Committee meetings. However, the President & Chief Executive Officer, Country Managers, independent reserves evaluators, and auditors will be invited to meetings of the RHSES Committee on a regular basis and other non-members may be invited to attend all or part of any meeting as and when appropriate.
- The RHSES Committee may request the presence of the independent reserves evaluators at any RHSES Committee meeting.
- At the request of the independent reserves evaluators, convene a meeting of the RHSES Committee to consider matters the reserves evaluators believe should be brought to the attention of the directors or shareholders.
- Meet on an annual basis (independent of management) with senior personnel responsible for HSES.

Restrictions

- Ensure no restrictions are placed by management on the scope of the independent reserves evaluators' review and examination of the Company's information.
- Ensure that no officer, director or employee of the Company attempts to fraudulently influence, coerce, manipulate or mislead any evaluator engaged in the preparation of the Company's oil and gas reserve statements.

RESERVES AND REVIEW PROCESS AND RESULTS

Scope

- Consider, in consultation with the independent reserves evaluators, the reserves scope and plan of the independent reserves evaluators for review and approval by the RHSES Committee.
