Short-Term Strategy Discussion

We will continue our strategy of investing capital in new equipment to take advantage of improvements in tractor cab aerodynamic drag, engine efficiency and developing fuel saving technologies. In addition, we are committed to completing our initiative to install Start-Stop idle reduction technology in all our tractors to reduce emissions. To date, we have deployed this technology in 61% of our tractors and have plans to complete this by Q4 2023. Along with our rigorous management and training efforts centered around fuel efficiency, we are also actively working to implement next generation trailer aerodynamic solutions, optimize diesel emissions with new cleaner burning solutions and implement various other strategies as technology is further developed.

Long-Term Strategy Discussion

We will make meaningful progress using technologies and strategies that are currently available in the marketplace. However, to meet the long-term goal of a 50% reduction, we will be reliant upon new technologies that are currently under various phases of development. We are anticipating that zero-emissions vehicles (including battery electric and hydrogen fuel cell vehicles) will move from prototype phase to cost-effective market solutions. We are currently testing and closely monitoring these technologies and anticipate that the solutions will be a meaningful contributor towards the targeted reductions.²

PANDEMIC RESPONSE

Knight-Swift has invested over $12,000,000 on coronavirus related relief efforts since the beginning of the pandemic. This investment included offering Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) such as face coverings, hand sanitizer and cleaning supplies to all of our employees. Early during the pandemic, when essential supplies were difficult to find, particularly for our driving associates over the road, the company's invested millions of dollars in food, water and other essential provisions to be available for our employees in need. Employees unable to work, due to contracting the virus or because of high risk status, were provided income continuity.

Our compensation approach was immediate, ahead of the curve and more generous than later created regulatory requirements. Family assistance was also provided to the immediate households of those workers who were more critically impacted by long term hospitalization.

We are proud of the many men and women who have continued to deliver food, goods, and supplies coast-to-coast during the crisis. Our financial strength has enabled us to provide stability to all of our employees, and we proudly offered a multitude of supplemental support during the pandemic, including:

- Supporting Our Driving Associates: Resources to support mental and physical well-being with offerings such as telehealth visits and virtual fitness classes.
- Driver Onboarding: Many precautionary measures were included in our day-to-day operations, specifically for essential live events such as our Swift Academy and Driver Qualification Programs:
 - Mask requirements in all locations; disposable masks were provided if needed
 - 6-foot distance requirement where possible
 - Temperature checks
 - Virtual learning options
 - Limited group gatherings; limited people in truck
 - Cleaned and sanitized trucks and bunks
 - Daily facility cleaning and sanitization
 - Ample hand sanitizer for employees
 - Single occupancy for students coming into a hotel
 - Prescreen questionnaire prior to visiting our locations
- Leadership Communication: Our executive leadership team provided consistent communication on safety protocols for all employees.

The company has done a wonderful job making sure its drivers are as healthy and cared for as they can be while on the road. It's great to feel valued and appreciated during a difficult time.
