ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--MAXIMUS (NYSE: MMS), a leading provider of government services worldwide, announced today that its Georgia Childcare and Parent Services (CAPS) operations have once again been recognized as a Certified Center of Excellence by BenchmarkPortal in collaboration with the Center for Customer-Driven Quality (CCDQ) at Purdue Research Park.

As a certified as a Center of Excellence, the Georgia CAPS project met rigorous operational standards of efficiency and effectiveness. This certification was achieved after BenchmarkPortal audited and verified Georgia CAPS' key performance indicators and compared the data to that of other peer organizations.

Georgia CAPS is a statewide program that helps more than 55,000 children from low-income working families and families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) benefits access child care services. MAXIMUS provides childcare provider management and payment services each month for an average of 3,900 providers across Georgia's 159 counties. Through a local office in Atlanta, the Company provides attendance processing services and issues payments to childcare providers. Additionally, the Company provides compliance, verification and documentation support, and compiles data for federal reporting.

"Our Georgia CAPS project first received certification in 2011, so this year's recertification underscores our continued commitment not only to deliver high-quality services to child care providers across the state, but also to provide efficient and cost-effective services for our government client, the Georgia Department of Human Services," commented Kathleen Kerr, President of MAXIMUS Human Services North America.
