RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--MAXIMUS (NYSE:MMS), a leading provider of government services, announced today that its TIENET® program has been recognized by District Administration Magazine as part of its Readers' Choice Top 100 Products of 2008 Awards. District Administration Magazine covers emerging technologies, leadership issues, and management strategies in the K-12 education industry. According to District Administration, as bandwidth grows and computers become faster, more and more districts are finding online resources to be great tools for meeting a variety of needs. The magazine's readers recognized TIENET® as one of the top online resources available to school districts today.

Richard Montoni, CEO of MAXIMUS, commented, "We are delighted to be recognized by District Administration Magazine based on the positive feedback from users of our TIENET® solution. District Administration is a well-regarded trade publication widely read by our clients and potential customers. This recognition follows on the heels of our recent win of a $54.9 million contract with the New York City Department for the implementation of our TIENET® Special Education Case Management solution. New York City joins over 300 school districts across the country, including large districts such as Chicago Public Schools in deploying our case management system."

Robert Runcie, Chief Information Officer for Chicago Public Schools, stated, "The TIENET® solution enables Chicago's teachers and special education service providers to prepare fully compliant Individual Education Programs. This program eliminates a large amount of low-value administrative activities and allows staff to spend more time delivering quality services to our students. The system may be easily and quickly modified to meet the changing needs of our District."

TIENET® is a single program providing three applications to be used separately or as one coordinated system for Instructional Data Management, Response to Intervention Management, and Special Education Case Management. TIENET® delivers powerful features including customizability, interoperability, security, and scalability by blending a solid, robust solution with leading edge technology. TIENET® also provides exceptional functionality including guided workflow, support and staff development, translations, communication, and integrated reporting to assist school systems.
