

Newmont South America: Strengthening Business Continuity with an Ongoing Focus on Health and Wellbeing

7/9/2020

Working safely has always been top of mind for Newmont’s workforce. Now, during the COVID-19 pandemic, ensuring that we provide all necessary protections for the health, wellbeing and safety of our employees and neighboring communities is more important than ever.

Over the last few months, teams from across Newmont South America have found new ways to collaborate, share insights and connect with one another to ensure business continuity while helping reduce the spread of COVID-19. In this video, employees from Yanacocha, Cerro Negro and Suriname share a brief update on the precautions they’re taking to help keep Newmont’s workforce safe and healthy.
