"We are honored to be named among the companies who are leading in corporate citizenship. Our global teams focus on reducing our environmental impact while creating quality products and we believe in robust and transparent disclosures when it comes to our ESG commitments and progress," said Stephan B. Tanda, Aptar President and CEO. "Our business practices are also rooted in the United Nations Global Compact universal principles of human rights, labor, environment and anti-corruption and these principles are at the forefront of our culture and operations."

Beth Holland, Vice President, Aptar Global Sustainability, explained, "We continue to advance our sustainability strategy that encompasses people, product and planet and remain committed to sharing strategic information with our stakeholders using our primary channels of communication, including many of the leading environmental reporting portals and standards. We look forward to further aligning with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals and to deepening our efforts in these important areas."

The 100 Best Corporate Citizens ranking is based on a wide range of data points including those related to employee relations, environment, climate change, stakeholders and society, human rights, ESG performance, governance and financial. 3BL Media creates the methodology based on the latest developments in corporate sustainability, extensive feedback from corporate and NGO stakeholders and guidance from Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) ESG.
