Diane Keaton, author of The House that Pinterest Built, is known for her infatuation with black and white design and statement-making decor. Her lighting collaboration with Aidan Gray brings her style to life with bold, graphic shades and clean profiles, each with striking design elements. The versatile collection can punctuate any space - from industrial chic to modern farmhouse styles - and Keaton designed the collection to be mixed and matched so individuals can achieve their personal design vision.

"Many of the shapes and patterns in the collection are reminiscent of what is in my home. It's about repetition and continuity," said Keaton. "The greatest satisfaction for me was seeing all of the small details come together to make the collection complete. The entire process was a real team effort; every shade tells a different story."

"We are thrilled to offer our customers exclusive access to this buzzed-about collection," said Rebecca Ginns, Perigold's General Manager. "This one-of-a-kind collaboration is a testament to Diane's creativity and design expertise. Paired with Aidan Gray's impeccable product quality, this collection is perfectly suited for Perigold's luxury portfolio."

The collection, which includes pendant lights, barrel shades, and lighting accessories, is available exclusively to purchase on Perigold.com. The collection starts at $790.00 and is backed by the Perigold promise of exceptional craftsmanship, free shipping*, and expert concierge service.

About Diane Keaton

Diane Keaton is an Oscar-winning actress, director, and author. Recognized for her architectural sensitivity and restorations, her design aesthetic has been celebrated in several books.

About Aidan Gray

Founded in 2003, Aidan Gray became a leader in home furnishings for products that fit beautifully into European-inspired interiors. Using lauded antiques as a muse, the company became popular for high-quality products that read as one-of-a-kind treasures from the 17th and 18th centuries. Recently, Aidan Gray has introduced contemporary notes to appeal to those whose interiors are more modern, though the emphasis on handmade and authentic materials continues to dominate the line. Whether the styles lean toward European or modern, each exhibits the "perfect balance" of usefulness for today's homes. Our Details, Your Style.
