

Aspira Announces the 2023 America's State Parks Photo Contest Winners

10/6/2023

DALLAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Aspira® in partnership with National Association of State Park Directors (NASPD) is proud to announce the winners of the seventh annual America's State Parks Photo Contest. The judging panel was inspired by 7,150 entries representing five categories, including: Activities, Wildlife, Family & Friends, Camping, and Scenic & Seasons. Qualifying submissions were judged based on originality, artistic composition, technical quality, and whether the photograph showcases the best of America's State Parks camping and outdoor activities.

The panel of judges selected six winners including the grand prize photo titled "Serene Morning to Reflect and Revive" by Dinesh Chitlangia. The scenic and seasons image was taken at Vogel State Park in Georgia highlighting the beauty of fall colors on the lake. Dinesh was awarded $5,000 from this year's sponsor Black Folks Camp Too. In addition, each of the five honorable mention category winners received a $500 Moosejaw gift card from Aspira. All six winners also won an annual membership to Apex Club.

"Aspira is proud to give back to America's State Parks and sponsor the photo contest for the seventh year in a row. We received photo entries representing all 50 states making it another successful photo contest. We appreciate all who participated and congratulate the winners for their inspiring photos," said Sharon Brown, President of Solutions at Aspira.

"The photo contest's popularity is reflective of the positive, inclusive, and healthy activities our nation's state parks continue to provide," said Lewis Ledford, Executive Director at National Association of State Park Directors.

Earl B. Hunter, Jr., Founder and President of Black Folks Camp Too added, "Congratulations to all the winners! Partnering with America's State Parks on the photo contest ensures that everyone can be involved in capturing the beauty of our State Parks. We are changing the world...one campfire at a time. Thanks for joining us!"
