West Red Lake Gold Mines Ltd. (TSXV: WRLG) - is set to restart gold production by mid-2025, leveraging its strong infrastructure and permits in a prolific Canadian mining district. With an indicated resource of 1.7 million ounces of gold and an additional 0.4 million ounces in the inferred category, this company is poised to unlock value and capitalize on a high gold market.

enCore Energy Corp. (TSXV: EU) (NASDAQ: EU) - "America's Clean Energy Company™" is now the only U.S. uranium producer with multiple plants in operation. With the Alta Mesa plant in Texas ramping up to 2 million pounds per year, enCore is expanding quickly to support America's clean energy needs.

Mandalay Resources Corporation (TSX: MND) (OTCQB: MNDJF) - is driving growth with cash-generating gold mines in Sweden and Australia. With Q2 revenue hitting $63 million, zero debt, and plans to expand production to 300K-500K ounces per year, the company is primed for expansion and stable returns.

Vizsla Silver Corp. (TSX: VZLA) (NYSE: VZLA) - is advancing toward becoming a top-tier silver producer, supported by a strong Preliminary Economic Assessment (PEA) that highlights significant production potential at low capital cost. With vast exploration opportunities remaining, Vizsla is well-positioned for growth as it moves rapidly toward production.

Novarc Technologies Inc. - is advancing welding automation with its innovative robotic solutions, including the world's first collaborative welding robot for pipe welding. Recognized in 2024 by the Financial Times as one of the fastest-growing companies in the Americas, Novarc's technologies are globally enhancing productivity and safety, setting new standards in the welding industry.
