Have-sies™ is a combination of the brand’s signature fries and classic onion rings. While Have-sies™ can be enjoyed a la carte in value, small, medium and large sizes, the new offering gives Burger King Guests even more ways to build the perfect combo meal to suit their tastes and satisfy their cravings.

“Burger King is all about letting Guests ‘have it their way,’ and while the flame-grilled Whopper sandwich is often the star of the show, that also includes side options when ordering combo meals,” said Pat O’Toole, Chief Marketing Officer, Burger King North America. “We know Guests love our onion rings that they can’t get anywhere else, but it’s hard to give up on the classic French fry – so we’re excited to offer both in true BK fashion.”
