Entertainment and
Gaming Giant Scales Up

One of the best ways to gauge the overall health and performance of a company is by watching its existing clients – especially those that broaden the use of one's products and services. The benefits of such expansions include shorter sales cycles and higher, more efficient close rates. Today's announcement brings the total robots under contract for this gaming client to 7, which include deployments in Las Vegas, Nevada; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Aurora, Illinois; Shreveport, LA; Bossier City, LA; and New Orleans, LA.

Knightscope ASRs will protect and engage the millions of individuals who choose to visit these magnets for entertainment each year. The robots greet guests with a friendly voice while providing additional eyes and ears to the human security team, including a two-way communication system to enhance the safety of visitors and workers.

Commercial Developer Brings Larger Opportunity

Knightscope also closed an American commercial real estate services and investment firm that has been a national account target since 2017. The client manages a property occupied by one of the world's largest multinational telecommunications companies, coincidentally another major account target since 2017, making this a particularly attractive "double win" for Knightscope that opens the door to future US expansions.
