AIG-F&B, Inc. plans to launch a global, vertically integrated food and beverage manufacturing and distribution business

Acquisition is expected to be highly synergistic and accretive

NEW YORK, Sept. 11, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Sentient Brands Holdings Inc. (OTC Markets: SNBH) ("Sentient Brands" and the "Company") (www.sentientbrands.com), a next-level product and brand development company with a strategic mission to develop and market high value products and services, today announced that it has entered into a definitive share exchange agreement (the "Agreement") with AIG-F&B, Inc. ("AIG") as part of the Company's M&A strategy. Under the terms of the Agreement, Sentient Brands will acquire AIG in exchange for shares of common stock of the Company in accordance with an earnout schedule, with the transaction expected to close on or before November 1, 2024. Upon the closing of the transaction, AIG will become a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company.

AIG's current shareholders, American Industrial Group, Inc. and its affiliates (collectively, "AIG Group"), represent a global network of vertically integrated food and beverage manufacturing companies. AIG Group operates eight factories and 170 distributors across 22 countries, supplying products to major U.S. and international big-box retailers and distributors, with several of their product lines holding Organic and Kosher certifications. In line with its business plan, AIG plans to launch a global, vertically integrated food and beverage manufacturing and distribution business, based on AIG Group's proven, cash flow-positive product lines and business models.

The Company's Chief Operating Officer, George Furlan, stated, "We are pleased to announce this transformative potential acquisition, as we believe that AIG's planned business venture would be highly synergistic with our existing product and brand development business, and we anticipate meaningful operation efficiency through the integration of our two organizations." Mr. Furlan continued, "If consummated, our acquisition of AIG could potentially establish Sentient Brands as an international enterprise with global reach and distribution capabilities within the food and beverage industries, which we expect could be highly accretive for our shareholders."

Sergey Knazev, interim CEO of AIG, further noted, "We are thrilled to join forces with Sentient Brands, leveraging AIG Group's cutting-edge product lines, advanced technology, and robust manufacturing and distribution expertise. This prospective partnership could provide a turnkey solution for AIG Group's proven food and beverage brands and potentially offer significant access to the U.S. and global markets. Together with the Sentient Brands platform, we are committed to driving innovation and delivering high-quality products to a worldwide audience."

Additional details of the transaction are available in the Company's Form 8-K, which has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is available at www.sec.gov.
