Alarm.com Announces Investment by Technology Crossover Ventures

Alarm.com invests with TCV to continue to focus on developing and delivering the most innovative products in the market.

Vienna, VA – July 25th, 2012. Alarm.com, the industry leader in interactive security, automation and energy management services, today announced that Technology Crossover Ventures (TCV), a leading provider of capital to growth-stage technology companies, has made a $136 million investment in the company. The investment will allow Alarm.com to continue to focus on developing and delivering the most innovative products in the market. TCV General Partner Tim McAdam will join Alarm.com's Board of Directors along with the existing investor ABS Capital Partners.

"Alarm.com is pleased to welcome TCV as a new partner in the business and we are thrilled to have Tim joining our Board of Directors", said Steve Trundle, CEO of Alarm.com. "TCV's well established track record of growth investments in software and technology companies will be a strategic asset for us. We look forward to continued focus on developing new and innovative products and growing our business."

"Alarm.com's best of breed software services and device management platform has established the company as the premier solution provider of interactive security services," said TCV General Partner Tim McAdam. "We are excited to work with Alarm.com to continue its growth and build on its track record of innovation."
