

Apex Named Most Promising AWS Solutions Provider by CIOReview for 2023

10/17/2023

RICHMOND, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Apex Systems, a leading technology services firm and ASGN (NYSE: ASGN) brand, was named 'Most Promising AWS Solutions Provider' by CIOReview. This is an annual listing of the 10 most promising companies that are at the forefront of providing AWS solutions and transforming businesses. Apex Systems is an Advanced AWS Consulting Partner with over 220 certifications and accreditations to date.

In a recent article written by CIOReview, a leading magazine for the enterprise IT marketplace, the publication discusses Apex's journey driving digital transformation engagements for clients and the growing demand for cloud infrastructure and platform solutions. This demand has manifested in a stronger, more strategic partnership between Apex Systems and AWS to augment Apex's cloud capabilities.

"Our goal is to help clients utilize services that will bring innovative products to market, enhance operations and productivity, and provide an amazing experience to their customers, employees, and partners," said Apex Systems CTO, Roger Wahman.

CIOReview goes on to detail a specific use case in which Apex partnered with a client running a digital marketplace to migrate its legacy relational data warehouse to a modern agile data services solution deployed on AWS.

The publication also discuss Apex's growth strategy with AWS, which includes adding new competencies and building depth with industry-specific platforms like Amazon HealthLake. As a HIPPA-eligible service, Amazon HealthLake offers a multitude of benefits to organizations from data consolidation and secure storage capabilities to data analytics and artificial intelligence/machine learning modeling all in a secure, compliant, and auditable manner.

Apex's AWS portfolio includes being an AWS Professional Services Subcontracting Partner for both the commercial and public sectors, as well as an Advanced Tier Services Partner, Amazon HealthLake Partner, Carbon Lake Partner, and APN Immersion Days Partner.
