ECS Demonstrates Seven Years of Excellence as AWS Managed Service Provider

6/23/2021

Company was also named an AWS Premier Consulting Partner for the sixth year in a row

FAIRFAX, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- ECS, a leader in cloud, cybersecurity, digital transformation, engineering, and Amazon Web Services (AWS) solutions has been named an AWS Managed Service Provider (MSP) Partner for the seventh year in a row, demonstrating the company's expertise at delivering solutions using AWS technology through a managed services model.

This recognition is the result of a rigorous third-party audit, in which ECS demonstrated operational excellence and value-added delivery across the company's AWS offerings. ECS supports enterprises throughout the full cloud adoption lifecycle, from plan and design through migration, build, and optimization. ECS has also maintained an AWS Premier Consulting Partner tier for six years in a row.

"We are thrilled to receive this top recognition for the seventh year in a row," said Dr. Imran Bashir, ECS CTO of cloud computing and vice president of emerging technologies. "Through the thought leadership of our Cloud Center of Excellence, as well as our on-the-ground philosophy of continuous improvement, ECS is a trusted provider of cloud solutions to leading enterprises across government and industry."

"This successful audit demonstrates ECS' expertise at delivering cloud solutions using AWS technology," said Michael Scrivener, ECS director of cloud architecture. "We serve customers with our extensive knowledge, mature processes, and comprehensive risk management methodology. From government agencies to fortune 1000 companies, enterprises of all kinds trust ECS as a reliable, secure, and expert provider of cloud solutions."
