Key Investment Highlights

Large, Attractive End Markets
- The staffing industry is a large market, with estimated total worldwide revenues of $126 billion in 2008 and forecasted to be $93 billion in 2009.\(^1\)
- Highly skilled temps are in high demand but short supply, with greater resistance to economic cycles, especially in areas like healthcare and highly specialized professional services.
- On Assignment ("ASGN" or “the Company”) participates in most attractive sub-segments of staffing (i.e. healthcare, life sciences, locum tenens and IT/engineering).

Strong Position in Critical High-End Skill Sets
- Focused placements of high-end talent – not a mass market “bodyshop” like larger providers.
- High-end focus yields higher bill rates, longer assignments and stickier customer relationships.
- Unique, proactive recruiting and fulfillment model for specialized talent.
- No government or direct 3rd party reimbursement risk.

Diverse, High Quality Customer Base
- 2,703 clients billed in Q3 '09 with top 10 clients accounting for 8.2% of revenues.
- Customer diversification enhances revenue visibility and insulates margins.
- Creates exciting opportunities for contract professionals.

Attractive Financial Characteristics
- All segments operate in high demand, high bill rate sub sectors of the broader staffing market, which drives organic revenue growth and stable gross margins.
- Highly scalable front and back office creates operating margin expansion opportunities.
- Low working capital and CapEx requirements result in strong conversion of EBITDA to free cash flow.
- 338(h)(10) election yields an estimated $4.8 million in annual cash tax savings.

Experienced Management Team
- CEO Peter Dameris has extensive experience in the staffing sector and a strong track record with public investors.
- Veteran cadre of seasoned industry professionals leading each division.
- Experienced finance and accounting department with strong back-office systems and reporting capabilities.

Staffing Industry Growth Drivers

• Catalyst For Continued Growth
  – An economic slowdown reminds companies the benefits of using contract labor
  – Variable cost structure provides money saving alternative to companies
  – Increasing shift in work force to part-time hours and more flexible job conditions
  – Temporary help penetration (1.3% in Sep '09) at historic lows compared to full-time employment¹
  – Aging U.S. population
  – Healthcare reform may stimulate demand for staffing in the long term

• Recent Market Trends
  – Labor markets have weakened and unemployment is at its highest rate since 1983
    • Irrespective of a weak economy, there still remains a demand for scarce resources and skilled labor (e.g. physicians)
  – Sub-segments of temporary staffing have maintained growth through the current recession (e.g. locum tenens)
  – Companies may have reduced permanent staff below sustainable levels; firms may look to temp staffing to bridge the gap

• Potential for M&A Activity
  – Attractive valuations may spark consolidation for staffing firms with liquidity on their balance sheets
  – Smaller, private companies may look to partner with larger, well capitalized firms to manage through the current environment or, possibly, seek exit opportunities

Staffing Industry Market Opportunity

Total U.S. staffing industry revenues forecasted to be $93 billion in 2009

- The U.S. Staffing Market Growth:
  - Given the current environment, the staffing industry is estimated to have contracted at an annual rate of 5.1% in 2008 and will contract at 26.0% in 2009

- Geographic Mix:
  - U.S., U.K., France, Japan and Germany are the largest geographic markets for the staffing industry
  - With the U.S. holding 33% of the global industry in 2008

- Penetration Rates Remain Low:
  - U.K. has the highest penetration of temporary employees at 5.1%
  - U.S. penetration rate is at 1.3% of the total workforce

Healthcare Staffing

Healthcare Staffing forecasted revenues to be $8.6 billion in 2009¹

- Demand for healthcare staffing services is expected to be driven by:
  - An aging U.S. population
  - Rapid advances in medical procedures and technologies
  - Continuous shift by healthcare organizations to increased outsourcing
  - Flexible business models
  - An acute shortage of physicians, nurses and other healthcare professionals
  - Need for workers with specialized science and medical skills

Nurse Travel

Nurse Travel forecasted revenues to be $1.5 billion in 2009

- Nurse Travel is estimated to have grown 1.5% in 2008 and is projected to contract by 40% in 2009.
- However, a primary long-term growth driver is nurse shortage, which is expected to grow to 17% by 2010, 27% by 2015, and to 36% by 2020.

Locum Tenens

Locum Tenens forecasted revenues to be $1.8 billion in 2009¹

- Locum Tenens: involves placing physicians, which include both general practitioners and specialists, on temporary assignments in a variety of healthcare settings

High Barriers To Entry

- Need for malpractice insurance
- Complexities involved in recruiting and marketing physicians
- High level of specialized positions requiring specific training and experience
- Lack of licensing reciprocity between states (unlike nursing)
- Greater lead time needed to successfully fill positions

Projected Physician Shortage

- By 2020 the US Department of Health & Human Services projects that physician shortages will reach 200,000²

Physician Workforce Demographics

- The proportion of physicians reported as working part-time increased to 19% in 2007 from 13% in 2005³
- Flexible work hours or part-time options were reported as one of the top three ongoing retention initiatives that medical group leaders have found to be effective³

Growth Characteristics

- Long-term growth may be boosted by a predicted shortage of 124,000 primary care physicians by 2025; possibly 25% higher w/ universal insurance coverage⁴
- Physicians are “revenue generators”

Information Technology

Projected IT Market Size

- During the IT boom in the late 1990s, IT staffing became a larger part of the staffing industry, generating 20.4% of industry revenues in 1999 versus 15.5% in 2007\(^1\)
- More recently, growth was driven in part by a backlog of deferred corporate spending from the last downturn

Shortage of Talent

- One of the main constraints on growth in this segment is a shortage of talent, and not necessarily demand, due to the exodus of many mid-career professionals following the tech bubble and a steady decline in new computer science graduates

Growth Characteristics

- IT segment is estimated to have contracted by 3.5% in 2008 and forecasted to contract 20% in 2009\(^1\)

---

Forecasted IT staffing revenues to be $15.8 billion in 2009\(^1\)

- IT staffing involves providing temporary professionals and placing full-time employees in areas ranging from multiple platform systems integration to end-user support, including specialists in programming, networking systems integration, database design and help desk support.

Specialization & Client “Stickiness”

Industrial Staffing
- Areas of focus: light industrial; clerical/administrative; less specialized skills
- Widely available skill sets
- Providers seek large placements and compete on price

Generalist Staffing

Specialist Staffing
- Areas of focus: healthcare, scientific, IT, engineering, accounting, legal
- Skills in short supply and critical to revenue potential of clients
- Competition based on quality of professional and speed and relevancy of response

1 Revenue growth period is FY '08 year-over-year and pro forma for the acquisition of Oxford and Vista in January 2007; Q3 '09 revenue growth presented is based on year-over-year

2 Adjusted EBITDA presented is one of the non-GAAP financial measures used by the Company and is defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization of identifiable intangible assets plus equity-based compensation expense, which terms might not be calculated in the same manner as, and thus might not be comparable to, similarly titled measures reported by other companies

Nurse Travel Demographics

75% of hospitals use supplemental nurses (including travelers, per diem and float staff), up from 56% in 2001

RN population
- Only 8% of the RN population was under the age of 30
- 41% of RNs were 50 years of age or older
- An estimated nurse shortage of 1,000,000 RNs by 2016
- Registered nurses are projected to experience the largest increase of new jobs by 2016 (~587,000)

Improved Quality of Care
- Studies show that the use of temporary nursing staff was actually more likely to improve patient care
- Temporary assignments also reduce nurse fatigue
- Unlike per diem nurses, employing travel nurses, which have longer assignments, provide an advantage to the continuity of patient care

Today’s Market Dynamics

Technical Resources Are More Plentiful…

Sales Cycles Have Lengthened…

Trends have begun to stabilize…

- Not enough orders exist
- Clients are doing more with less
- Clients are reducing billable hours
- Some early terminations have occurred midstream
- Clients are taking advantage of flexibility with temp workforce by downsizing quickly
- Companies are hesitant to begin investments in projects or R&D
- Healthcare reform uncertainty has caused a “wait and see” strategy

However
Q4 ’09 Trends

Signs of stabilization are continuing to surface

• Monthly revenue trend has stabilized
  – Historical terminations have leveled off translating into stabilization with new orders outpacing terms
  – Order volume is slowly increasing
  – Nursing continues to be an area of weakness for the industry but positive signs are surfacing

• Positive outlook for 2nd half of 2009
  – Real GDP increased at an annual rate of 3.5% in the Q3 of 2009, according to the "advance" estimate released by the Bureau of Economic Analysis ¹
  – American Recovery and Reinvestment Act signed in February 2009 may potentially fuel assignments in the physician staffing segment

• Employment data
  – September’s U.S. unemployment rate increased slightly to 9.8% from 9.7% in August; but well below the average monthly increase over the past year

¹ Bureau of Economic Analysis (October 29, 2009)
Revenue Has Stabilized and Gross Margin is at an All-Time High

- A dollar of revenue growth is more valuable to ASGN today than a year ago, given gross margin has continued to expand to a record level; and
- More valuable to ASGN than its peer group
  - Gross margin continued to trend up in Q3 ’09 to 33.4%, one of the highest margins in the industry
  - Adjusted EBITDA margin is at the top of the industry and well above its peer group average

1 Affected by normal seasonal drop in fourth quarter revenue (i.e. holiday season, less billable days, etc.)
Operating Focus for 2009

- Capture Market Share
- Maintain Gross Margins and/or Enhance Operating Leverage
- Increase Cash Generation...

As the year progresses, possibly evaluate key strategic acquisitions to enhance service offerings.

Key Investment Highlights

Large, Attractive End Markets
- The staffing industry is a large market, with estimated total worldwide revenues of $126 billion in 2008 and forecasted to be $93 billion in 2009.
- Highly skilled temps are in high demand but short supply, with greater resistance to economic cycles, especially in areas like healthcare and highly specialized professional services.
- On Assignment ("ASGN" or "the Company") participates in most attractive sub-segments of staffing (i.e. healthcare, life sciences, locum tenens and IT/engineering).

Strong Position in Critical High-End Skill Sets
- Focused placements of high-end talent – not a mass market “bodyshop” like larger providers.
- High-end focus yields higher bill rates, longer assignments and stickier customer relationships.
- Unique, proactive recruiting and fulfillment model for specialized talent.
- No government or direct 3rd party reimbursement risk.

Diverse, High Quality Customer Base
- 2,703 clients billed in Q3 ’09 with top 10 clients accounting for 8.2% of revenues.
- Customer diversification enhances revenue visibility and insulates margins.
- Creates exciting opportunities for contract professionals.

Attractive Financial Characteristics
- All segments operate in high demand, high bill rate sub sectors of the broader staffing market, which drives organic revenue growth and stable gross margins.
- Highly scalable front and back office creates operating margin expansion opportunities.
- Low working capital and CapEx requirements result in strong conversion of EBITDA to free cash flow.
- 338(h)(10) election yields an estimated $4.8 million in annual cash tax savings.

Experienced Management Team
- CEO Peter Dameris has extensive experience in the staffing sector and a strong track record with public investors.
- Veteran cadre of seasoned industry professionals leading each division.
- Experienced finance and accounting department with strong back-office systems and reporting capabilities.
