This presentation contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and involve a high degree of risk and uncertainty. Forward-looking statements include statements regarding the Company's anticipated future financial and operating performance. All statements in this presentation, other than those setting forth strictly historical information, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance, and actual results might differ materially. In particular, the Company makes no assurances that estimates of revenues, gross margin, SG&A, Adjusted EBITDA, cash flow and other financial metrics will be achieved. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include actual demand for our services, our ability to attract, train and retain qualified staffing consultants, our ability to remain competitive in obtaining and retaining staffing clients, the availability of qualified temporary and permanent placement professionals, management of our growth, continued performance of our enterprise-wide information systems, and other risks detailed from time to time in our reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013, as filed with the SEC on March 3, 2014 and our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2014, as filed with the SEC on August 11, 2014. We specifically disclaim any intention or duty to update any forward-looking statements contained in this presentation.

Growth Drivers

- Variable cost structure provides potential cost savings and staff flexibility
- Technology is increasingly embedded in business
- Aging U.S. population may constrain workforce supply
- Healthcare reform may stimulate staffing demand
- Companies are utilizing temporary labor as a larger percentage of their workforce

Commercial vs. Professional Staffing Trend

1995
- Commercial: 64%
- Professional: 36%

2015
- Commercial: 45%
- Professional: 55%

Industry Revenue: $55 billion

Industry Revenue: $136 billion

Structural Change Towards Professional Staffing

- Driven in part by IT staffing (the largest segment)
- Rapid rate of technological change driving companies to flexible workforces
- Increasing scarcity of math & science skills and new graduates
- Specialized expertise eliminates the need for training or long lead times to reach full productivity

Source: Staffing Industry Analysts
Market Overview

IT & Engineering
- IT Staffing involves providing temporary professionals and placing full-time employees in areas ranging from multiple platform systems integration to end-user support, including specialists in programming, networking systems integration, database design and help desk support.

- IT is one of the fastest growth areas of staffing, fueled by:
  - The penetration of technology
  - Rate for computer and mathematical temporary occupations expanding rapidly
  - Cycle of current technical skills becoming obsolete and shortage of new technical skills becoming more acute
  - Shorter development cycle
  - IT a priority for U.S. healthcare organization
  - Immigration reform and “political winds” driving trends toward onshore resources

- Demand for senior-level IT and engineering consultants among the most robust in staffing

Clinical / Scientific
- Scientific professionals assist clients in the life sciences industries with research and development, production, quality control assurance, regulatory affairs and compliance, engineering, consumer testing and clinical research.

- Highly fragmented; market dynamics favorable

- Middle markets, small/medium clients favor personalized service

- Clinical trials already in progress tend to carry through the length of assignments which can last several months or even years

- The industry is saturated with start-up companies with venture capital-backed funding that, in some cases, may have a need for the use of temporary help or “temp-to-perm” staffing models as a way of managing a flexible workforce

Physician
- Locum tenens involves placing physicians on temporary and permanent assignments in a variety of healthcare settings.

- High barriers to Entry
  - Need for malpractice insurance
  - Complexities involved in recruiting and marketing physicians
  - Specialized positions requiring specific training and experience
  - Lack of licensing reciprocity between states (unlike nursing)
  - Greater lead time needed to successfully fill positions

- Long-term growth may be fueled by a growing shortage, an aging population and accessible healthcare insurance to more citizens with healthcare reform

- Private practices being consolidated into large hospitals and systems

- The MSP/VMS environment expected to thrive

Industry Dynamics

Projected Market Size & Growth

IT & Engineering
- 2011: $20.6

| Cyclical Stabilization and Growth                  | • Labor markets indicate job recovery continues to strengthen, albeit at an anemic rate
• Companies will look to temporary staffing to meet cyclical recovery in demand                                                                                                      |
| Secular Trends Will Favor On Assignment            | • Aging U.S. population may constrain supply of available workforce
• Healthcare reform should stimulate demand for staffing in the long term
• On Assignment focuses on the highly-skilled component of the labor force, which companies typically find most difficult to fill/hire                                                                                                                                 |
| Numerous Areas of Opportunity for Incremental Revenues | • Healthcare IT
• Locum tenens
• Clinical research
• Permanent placement                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Acquisition Environment Is Favorable               | • On Assignment is well positioned to enhance its market position and/or add new capabilities / service offerings
• Low borrowing costs and quick deleveraging since the acquisition of Apex Systems allow for an acquisition strategy to be redeployed                                                                                                                                 |
| Significant Sources of EPS Leverage                | • Revenue growth vs. fixed costs creates margin opportunity
• Strong cash flow generation provides liquidity for rapid deleveraging and executing acquisition strategies with internally generated cash
• 338(h)(10) elections yield approximately $20 million in annual cash tax savings¹                                                                                                                                 |

1 Amortization of identifiable intangible assets (e.g., customer/contractor relationships, non-compete agreements, etc.) related to the acquired businesses. The year-over-year reductions in this add-back will result in a corresponding increase in operating income for GAAP purposes.

2 Income tax benefit (using 39 percent marginal tax rate) from amortization for income tax purposes of certain indefinite-lived intangible assets (goodwill & trademarks), on acquisitions in which the company received a step-up in tax basis. For income tax purposes, these assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over 15 years. For financial reporting purposes, these assets are not amortized and a deferred tax provision is recorded that fully offsets the cash tax benefit in the determination of net income.

3 Income taxes (assuming a 39 percent marginal rate) on the portion of amortization of identifiable intangible assets, which are not deductible for income tax purposes (mainly amortization associated with the CyberCoders acquisition that the Company was not able to step-up the tax basis in those acquired assets for tax purposes).
