Alamos Gold Announces Appointment of Mr. Ted Reeve to its Board of Directors

Toronto, Ontario – Alamos Gold Inc. (Alamos) announces the appointment of Ted Reeve to the board of directors of the company. Mr. Reeve has a background of nearly 20 years as a gold mining analyst with a number of investment dealers, most recently with Scotia Capital. He is well known for his authoritative and detailed global reviews of gold producer hedging trends which put him at the forefront of that particular field. In 2002, he founded Haliburton Mineral Services Inc. in Toronto where he continues to act as an independent researcher and consultant.

Mr. Reeve holds a Bachelor and a Masters degree in Geology from Carleton University and the University of Wisconsin respectively, and a Ph.D. in Geology from the University of Toronto. He further holds a Masters of Business Administration from the University of Toronto. He holds corporate directorships in two public companies involved with exploration and development in Africa.

Alamos Gold is constructing an open pit, heap leach gold mine at its fully permitted, 100% owned Mulatos deposit in Sonora, Mexico. The Mulatos deposit contains over 3.0 million ounces of gold in the measured and indicated category at a cutoff of 0.6 grams per tonne. Phase I mining will focus on the Estrella pit, which contains over 1.4 million ounces of recoverable gold.
