

Donnelley Financial Solutions Wins M&A Technology Service Provider of the Year from the Global M&A Network

December 13, 2016

Venue® Data Room, a core component of the Donnelley Financial Solutions platform, named the Virtual Data Room of the year.

CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Donnelley Financial Solutions (NYSE: DFIN) today announced that the company was chosen as the year's top M&A technology service provider at the Global M&A Network's 2016 Americas M&A Atlas Awards for the Venue Virtual Data Room. Focused on top performance and deal value generation, the M&A Atlas awards honor the top dealmakers and firms from the middle market mergers, acquisitions, corporate and private equity deal communities.

"Being acknowledged as both a technology and service leader by a global network of top deal practitioners is recognition our deal solutions platform provides our clients with the most innovative solution possible," noted Craig Clay, President of Global Capital Markets, Donnelley Financial Solutions. "This has been a banner year of growth and development for our Venue solution, and we are excited to receive this award alongside some of the top dealmakers in the industry."

Donnelley Financial Solutions debuted as a public company following the completion of its spin off from RR Donnelley & Sons Company (NYSE: RRD) at the beginning of October. The new company enables clients to create, securely store, localize, analyze and disseminate critical business content. This year, the company launched a redesigned Venue Data Room, and expanded their deal management offering to include Deal Marketing, Contract Analytics, Deal Sourcing, and Roadshow solutions.

"As a stand-alone financial communications software and services provider, we are focused on maintaining our expertise and scale as a technology leader for the global deal making community," commented Cynthia Clarke, Chief Information Officer, Donnelley Financial Solutions. "We are committed to the continued investment in our platform to ensure our clients are supported by industry leading solutions that truly enhance and streamline their business processes."
