Important Information About Ryerson Holding Corporation

These materials do not constitute an offer or solicitation to purchase or sell securities of Ryerson Holding Corporation ("Ryerson" or "the Company") or its subsidiaries and no investment decision should be made based upon the information provided herein. Ryerson strongly urges you to review its filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which can be found at https://ir.ryerson.com/financials/sec-filings/default.aspx. This site also provides additional information about Ryerson.

Safe Harbor Provision

Certain statements made in this release and other written or oral statements made by or on behalf of the Company constitute "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws, including statements regarding our future performance, as well as management's expectations, beliefs, intentions, plans, estimates, objectives, or projections relating to the future. Such statements can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "objectives," "goals," "preliminary," "range," "believes," "expects," "may," "estimates," "will," "should," "plans," or "anticipates" or the negative thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology, or by discussions of strategy. The Company cautions that any such forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and may involve significant risks and uncertainties, and that actual results may vary materially from those in the forward-looking statements as a result of various factors. Among the factors that significantly impact our business are: the cyclicality of our business; the highly competitive, volatile, and fragmented metals industry in which we operate; the impact of geopolitical events; fluctuating metal prices; our indebtedness and the covenants in instruments governing such indebtedness; the integration of acquired operations; regulatory and other operational risks associated with our operations located inside and outside of the United States; the influence of a single investor group over our policies and procedures; work stoppages; obligations under certain employee retirement benefit plans; currency fluctuations; and consolidation in the metals industry. Forward-looking statements should, therefore, be considered in light of various factors, including those set forth above and those set forth under "Risk Factors" in our most recent annual report on Form 10-K and in our other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Moreover, we caution against placing undue reliance on these statements, which speak only as of the date they were made. The Company does not undertake any obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements to reflect future events or circumstances, new information or otherwise.

Non-GAAP Measures

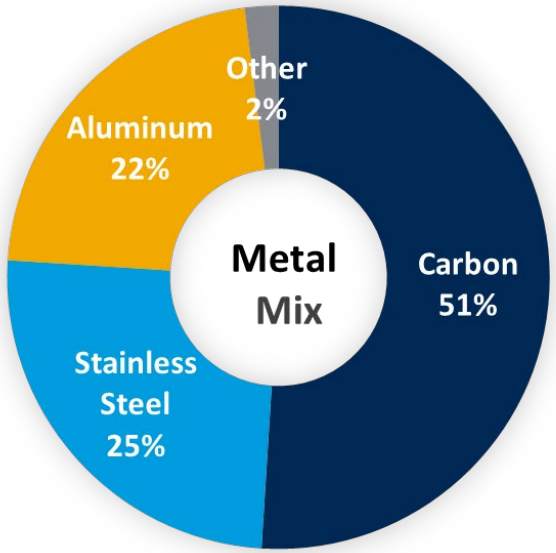

Certain measures contained in these slides or the related presentation are not measures calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). They should not be considered a replacement for GAAP results. Non-GAAP financial measures appearing in these slides are identified in the footnotes. A reconciliation of these non-GAAP measures to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures is included in the Appendix.

INDUSTRY THEMES

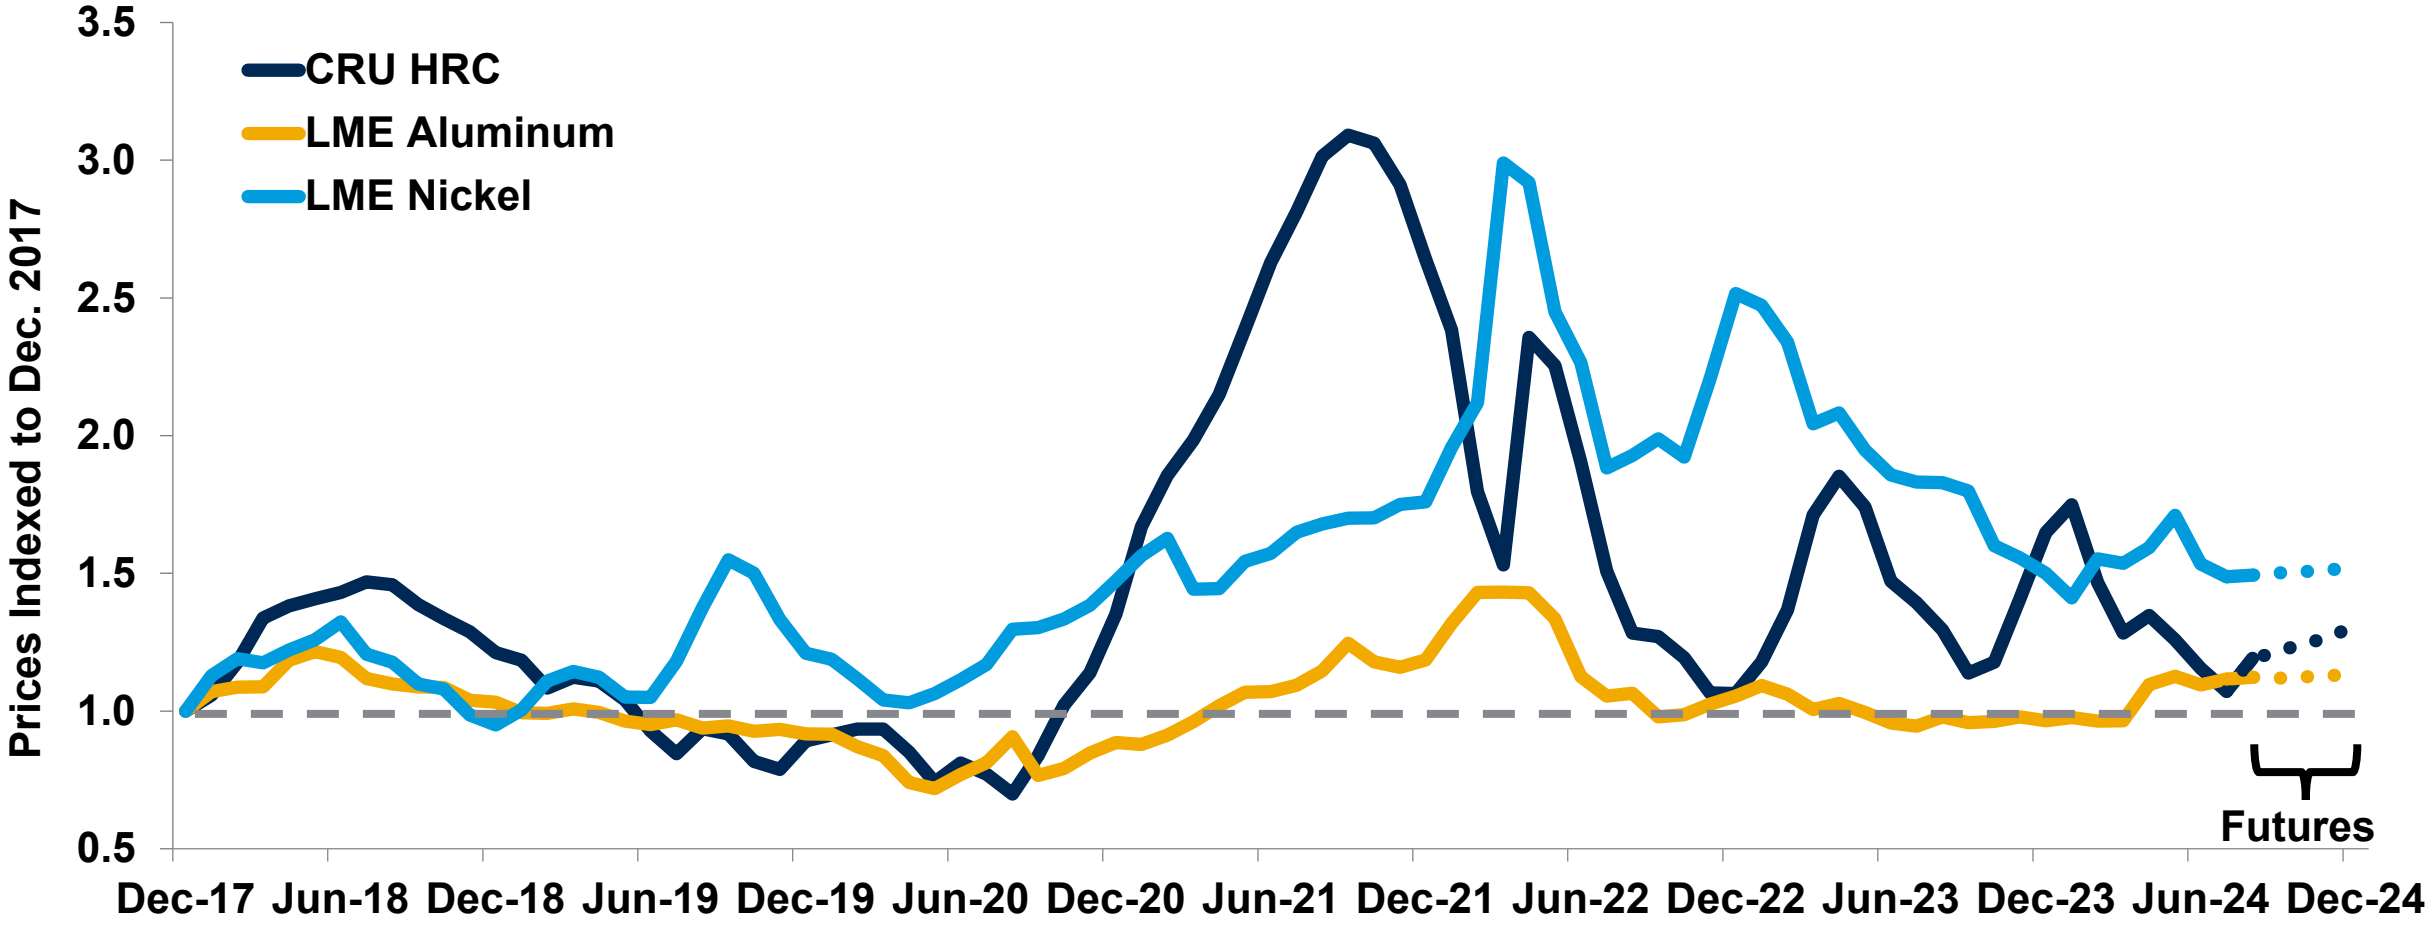

Global Mega-Trends

- Reshoring favors US, Mexico and Canada
- Climate, energy transition and electrification drive higher metals intensity
- Rising energy, labor, input costs and supply security expected to cause metals prices to reset higher
- Automation and productivity driven investment

North America Trends

- Domestic mill consolidation
- Fair trade rules have helped level the import playing field
- Infrastructure spend and domestic industrial policy favor domestic metals supply
- Commodity investment has lagged
- Manufacturing customers are seeking higher value-add

COMMODITY PRICE PERFORMANCE

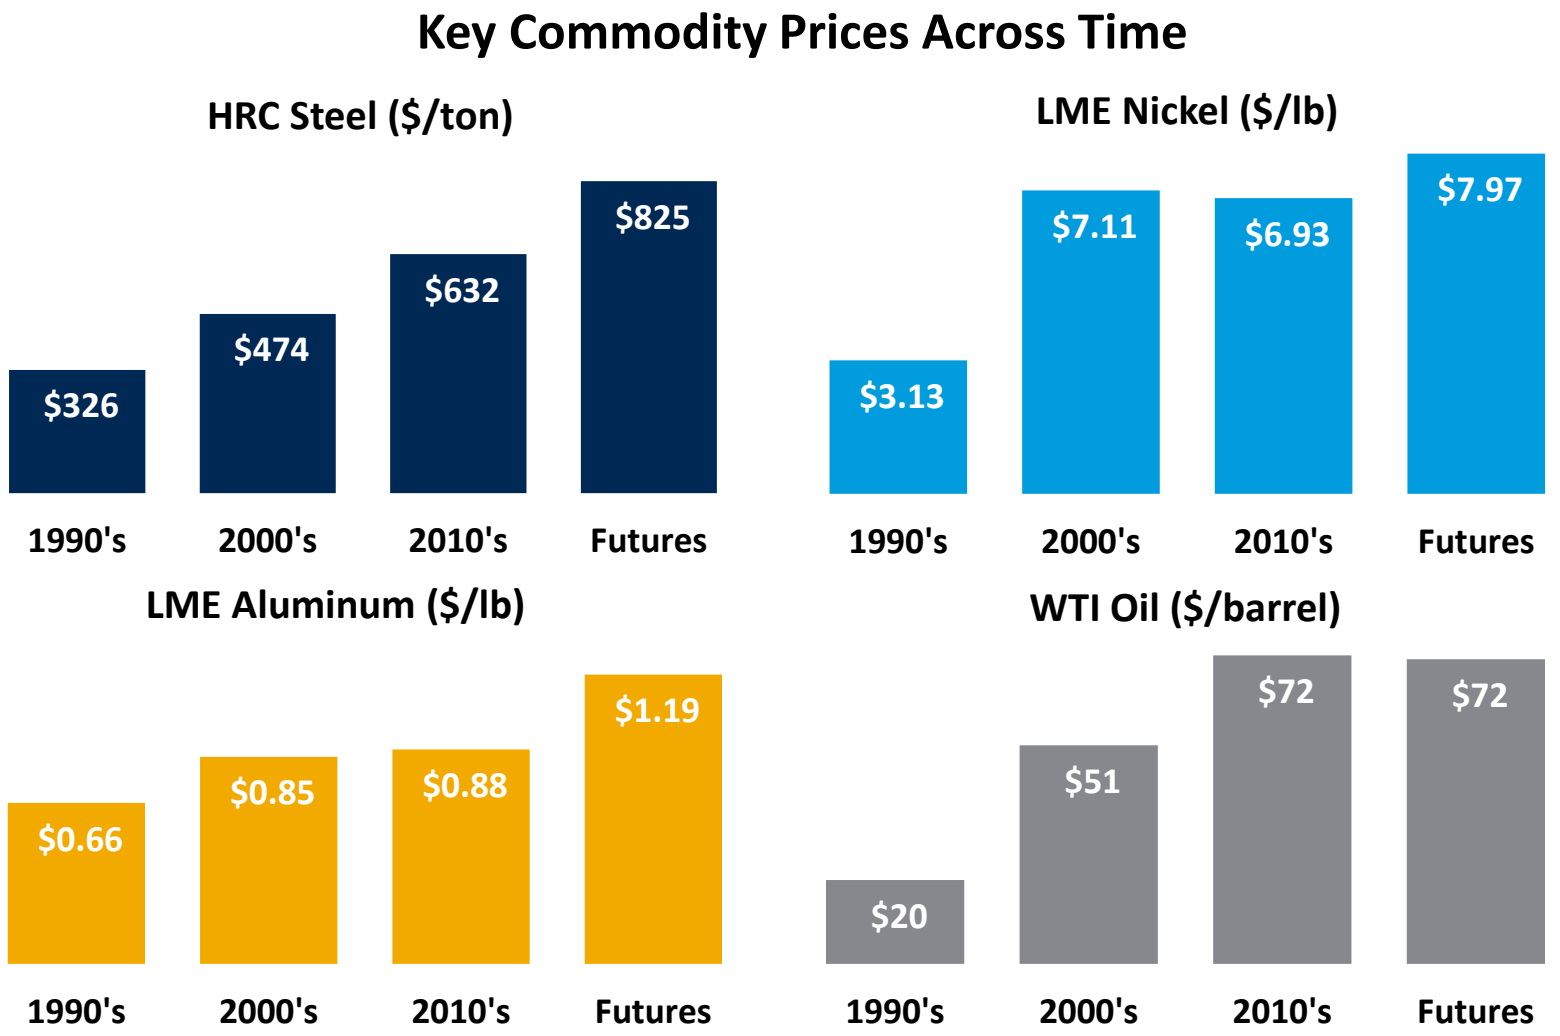

- Commodity indices driven by changing global macroeconomic supply and demand

FIRST STAGE PROCESSING

- Customers get what they need, maximizing labor force, manufacturing space and optimizing working capital
- Economies of scale for processing machinery utilization/uptime
- Effective use of inventory buying in bulk and then cut to correct size or length
- Higher margin than traditional pick-and-pull distribution business

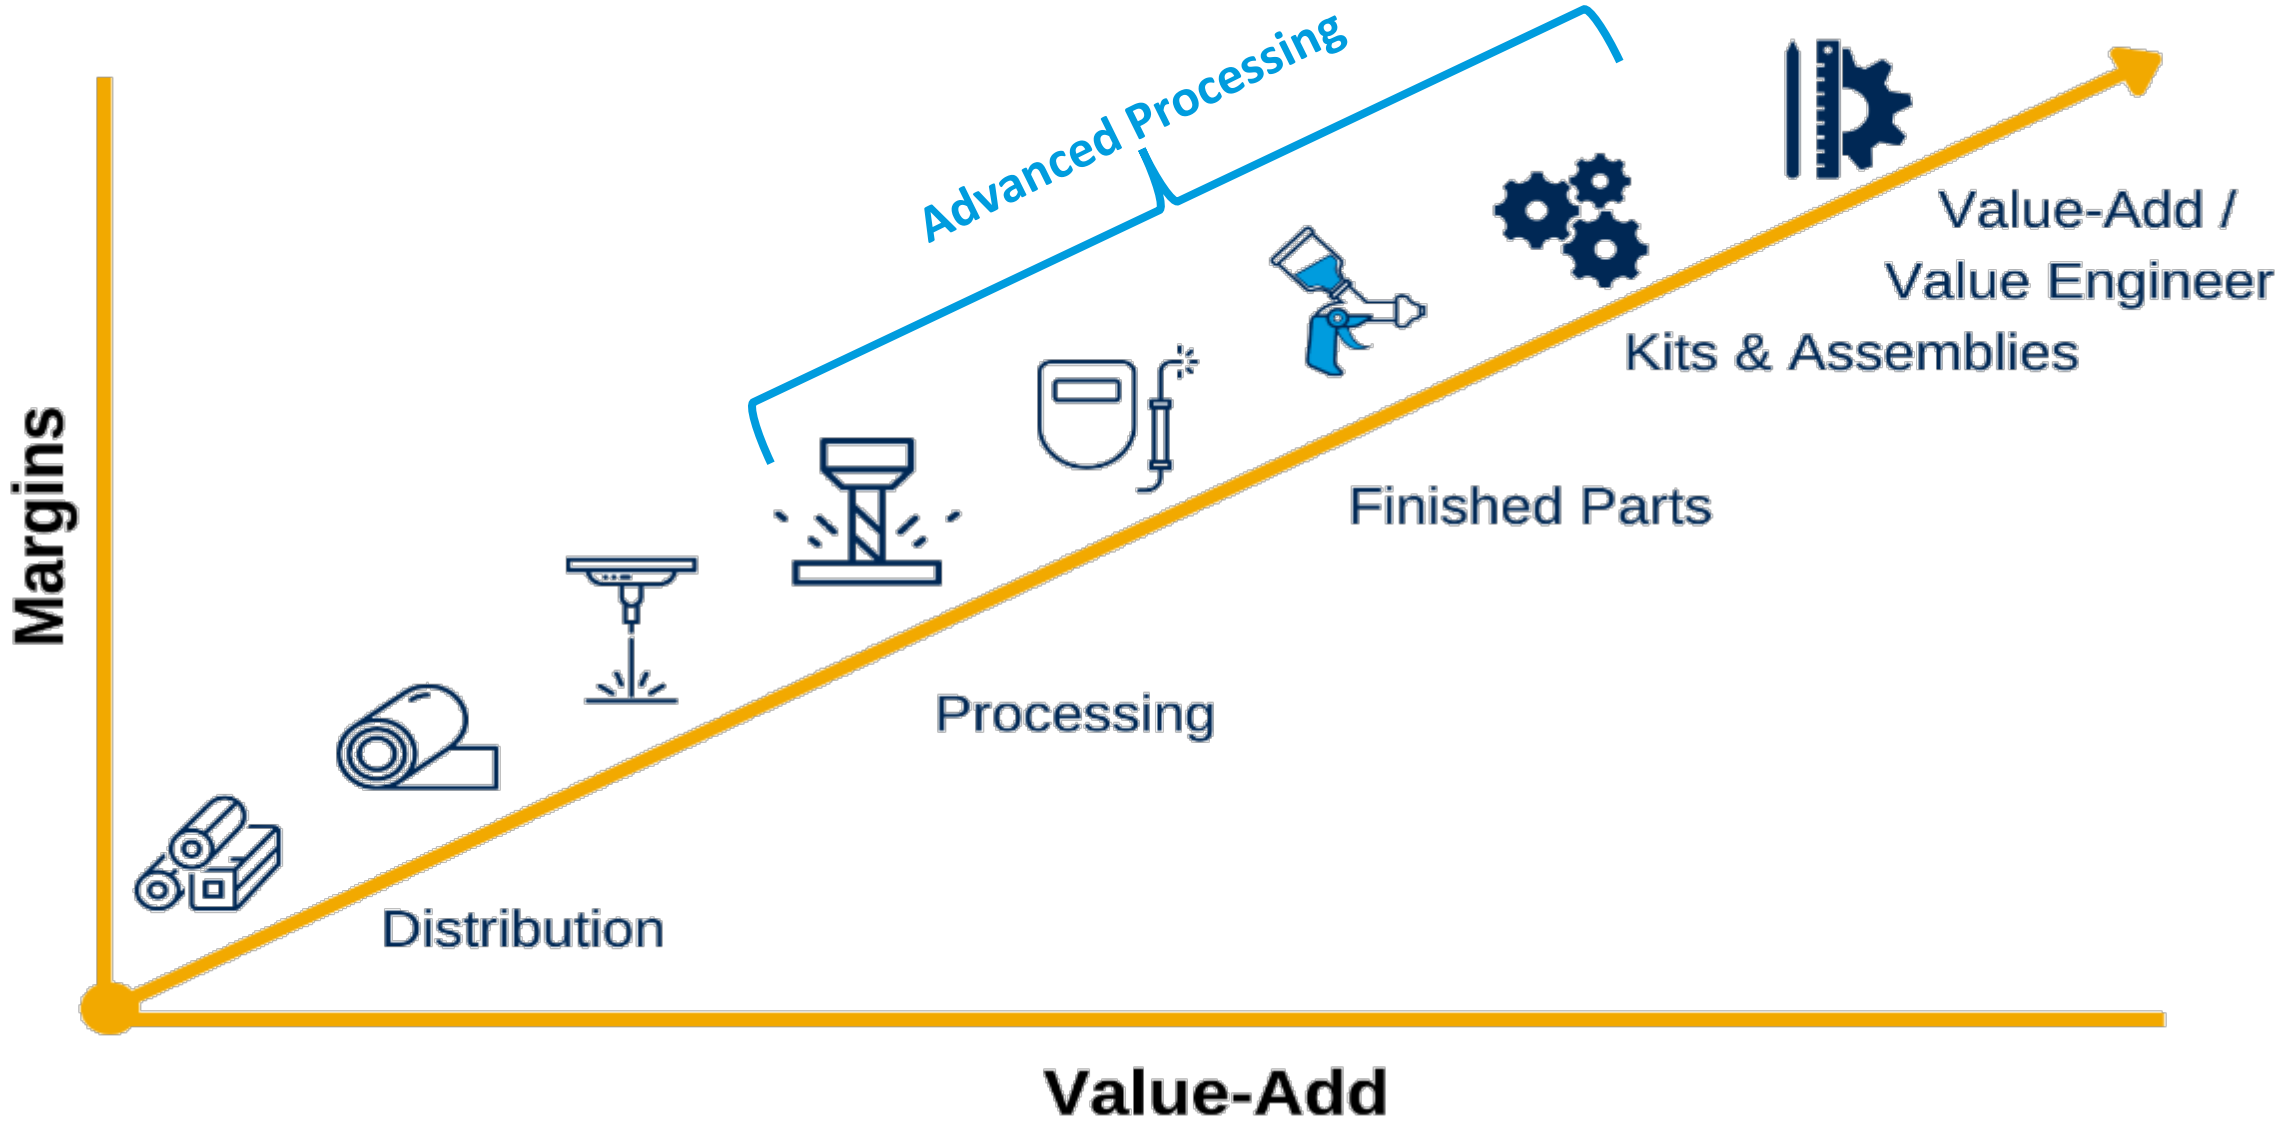

ADVANCED PROCESSING

- Advanced fabrication capitalizes on increased customer demand for outsourced complex parts and sub-assemblies
- Provides a growth platform beyond industry projections
- Higher margins achieved by de-linking from underlying commodities
- Reduced customer turnover as cost to change part suppliers is high due to start-up costs

Return on Invested Capital versus Peers

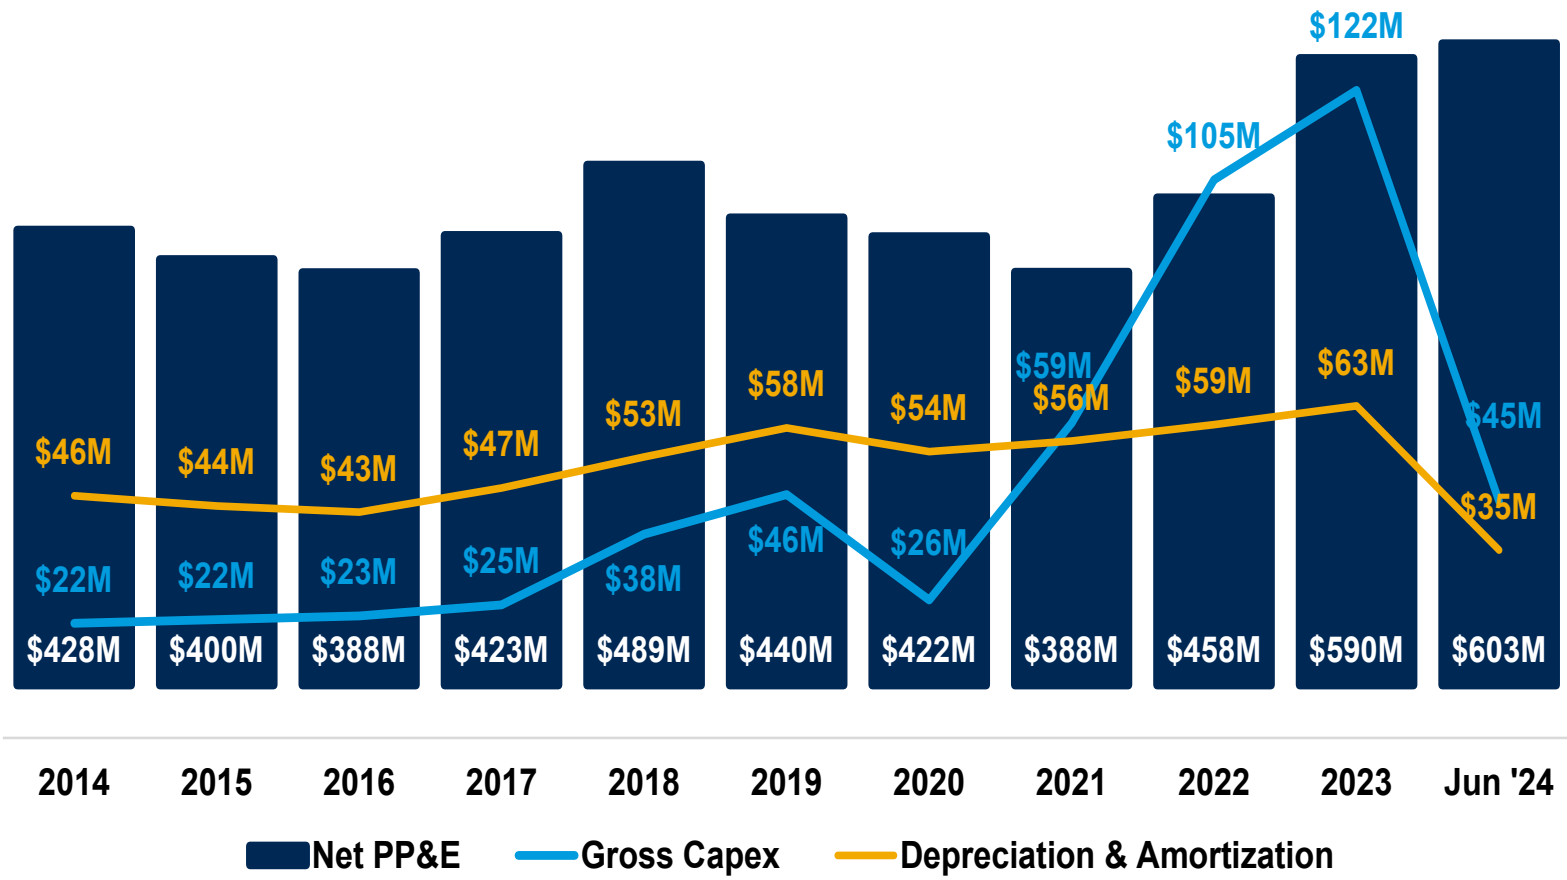

Appendix

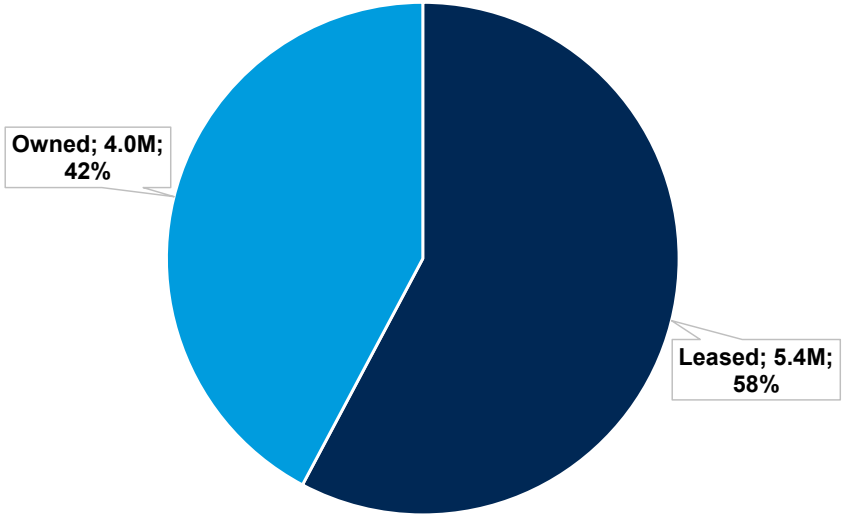

NON-GAAP RECONCILIATION

Note: EBITDA represents net income before interest and other expense on debt, provision for income taxes, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA gives further effect to, among other things, reorganization expenses, gain on bargain purchase, gain on sale of assets, (gain) loss on retirement of debt, pension settlement charges and foreign currency transaction gains and losses, among other items. We believe that the presentation of EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), provides useful information to investors regarding our operational performance because they enhance an investor's overall understanding of our core financial performance and provide a basis of comparison of results between current, past and future periods. We also disclose the metric Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), to provide a means of comparison amongst our competitors who may not use the same basis of accounting for inventories. EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), are three of the primary metrics management uses for planning and forecasting in future periods, including trending and analyzing the core operating performance of our business without the effect of U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP, expenses, revenues and gains (losses) that are unrelated to the day-to-day performance of our business. We also establish compensation programs for our executive management and regional employees that are based upon the achievement of pre-established EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), targets. We also use EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), to benchmark our operating performance to that of our competitors. EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), do not represent, and should not be used as a substitute for, net income or cash flows from operations as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and neither EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), is necessarily an indication of whether cash flow will be sufficient to fund our cash requirements. This release also presents gross margin, excluding LIFO expense (income), which is calculated as gross profit minus LIFO expense (income), divided by net sales. We have excluded LIFO expense (income) from gross margin and Adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of net sales metrics in order to provide a means of comparison amongst our competitors who may not use the same basis of accounting for inventories as we do. Our definitions of EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), gross margin, excluding LIFO expense (income), and Adjusted EBITDA, excluding LIFO expense (income), as a percentage of sales may differ from that of other companies. Adjusted Net income and Adjusted Earnings per share is presented to provide a means of comparison with periods that do not include similar adjustments.

Service Center Sqft = 9.4M[1]

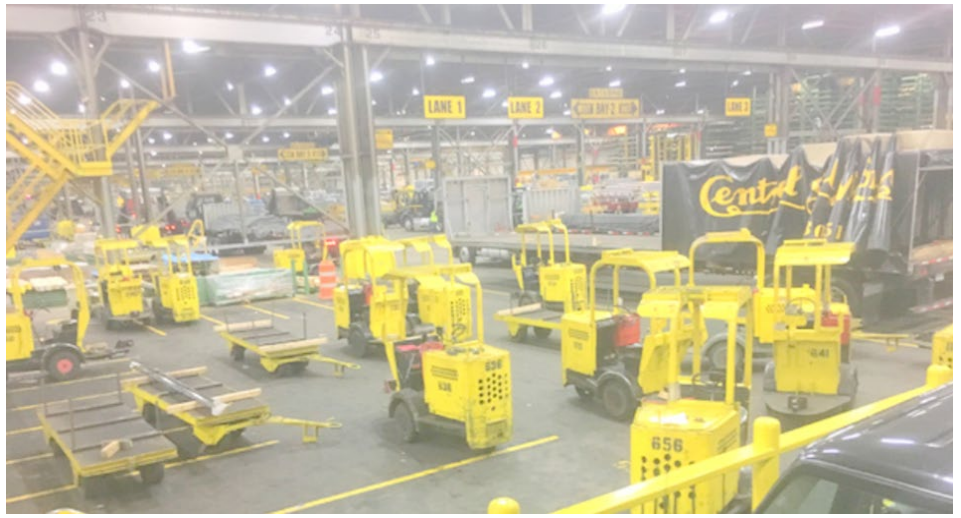

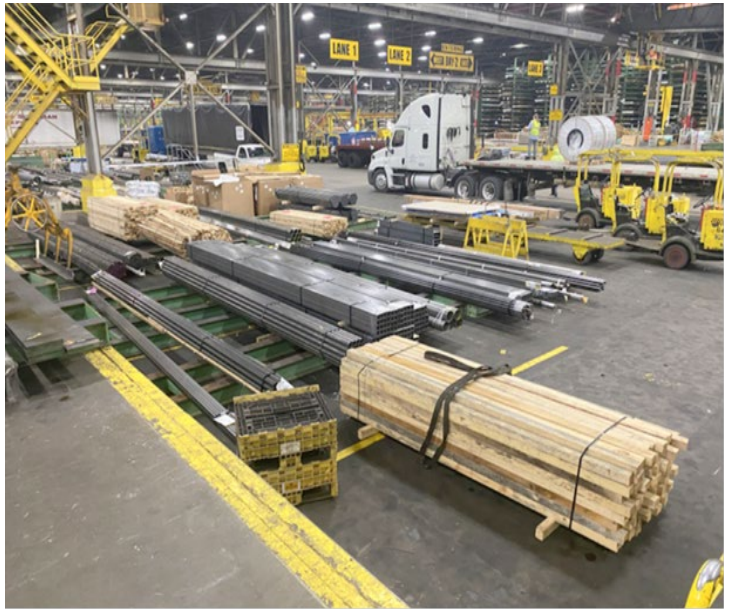

Owned Real Estate Portfolio Valuation
Estimated Fair Market Value[2]	$365M
Net Book Value	$184M

[1]As of 6/30/24 [2]This portfolio valuation is not based on any independent appraisals or third-party valuations of the fair market value ("FMV") of the portfolio assets. Rather, the portfolio valuation assumes FMV based on internal estimates taking into consideration (1) third-party estimates, (2) prior sale-leaseback transactions, and (3) previous sales of similar assets, each of which involves highly subjective assessments or may no longer be current. The portfolio valuation should not be used as a substitute for an independent FMV valuation.

CS&W KEDZIE (Q1 ’24 EXIT)

- 4 buildings across 1.5M sq ft
- Inefficient work centers and aged assets
- Difficult layout for truck traffic
- Low operating leverage with high headcount

CS&W UNIVERSITY PARK (Q2 ’24 RAMP)

- 900k sq ft state-of-the-art long products and value-add Center of Excellence, leveraging Automated Guided Vehicles
- Streamlined layout to drive operations and logistics efficiency
- Raised docks improve material handling with enhanced ergonomics
- Somerset station (left) improves throughput

LIFO INVENTORY VALUATION

- LIFO adjustments reflect cost of sales at current replacement costs
  - In periods of rising metal prices, LIFO expense is recognized
  - In periods of declining metal prices, LIFO income is recognized
- LIFO Reserve ~$148 million as of December 31, 2023, can benefit future period earnings of declining metals prices

See Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023

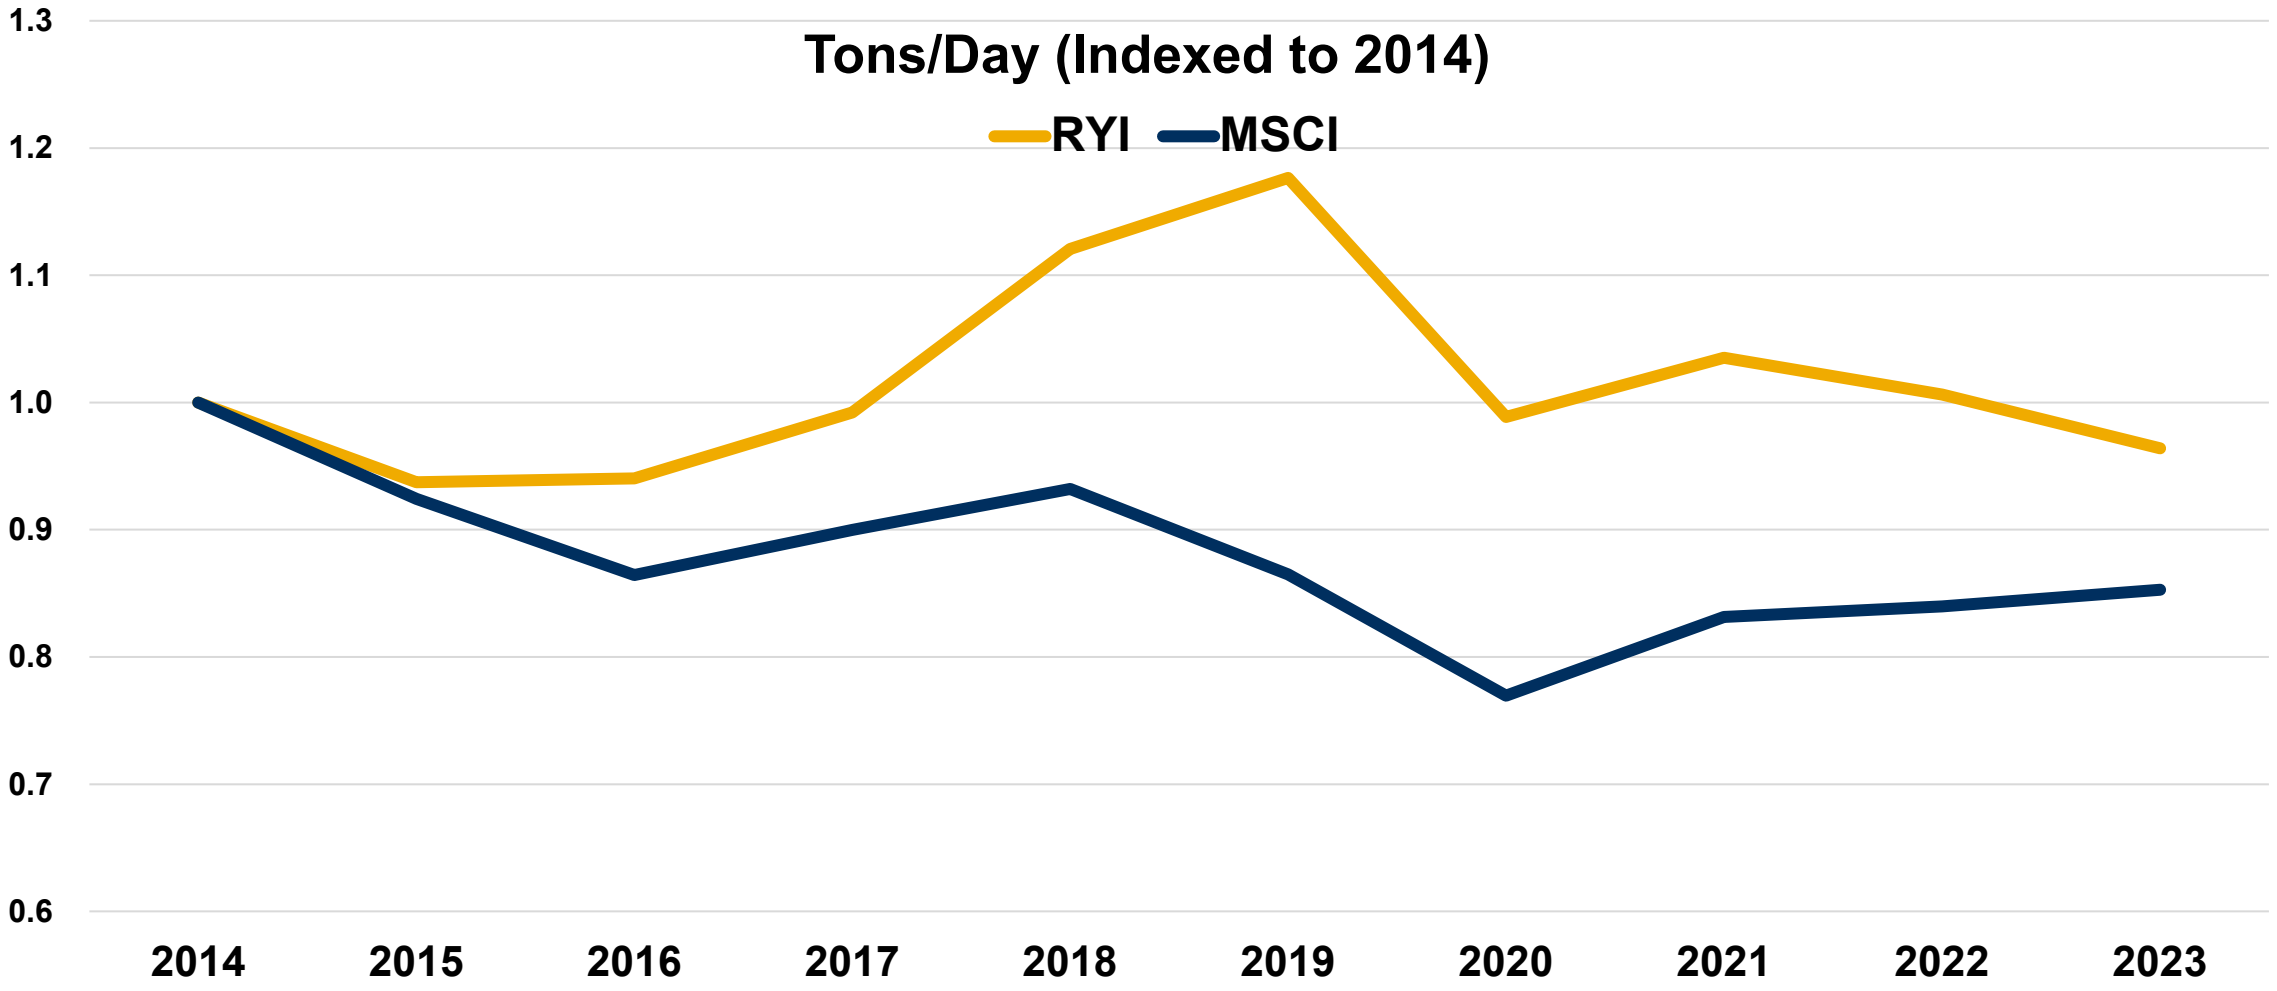

EQUITY VALUE ACCRETION

- Reduction of net debt and legacy liabilities combined with improved operating model drive substantial increase in net book value of equity

[1]June 2014 NBV/share reflects pro-forma amount that includes the 11M shares issued in the August 2014 IPO

MARKET SHARE VS MSCI
